Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgments

1. Acknowledgment is made of the change of address and amendment filed 5/9/03 and 8/12/03, respectively.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-6, 9-11, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wheeler (6,277,509 B1).

Wheeler discloses a water recovery system 10 comprising a fuel cell 12 for powering a motor, a cooling circuit (or loop) 44, heat exchangers 52,58,74, cathode and anode exhaust streams 38, gas (or steam) generator 60, a coolant pump 50, and a plurality of condensate traps (or hydride beds or means for collecting water) 90,92,94,96, wherein said heat exchanger condenses the exhaust gas of the fuel cell for recirculating into the cooling circuit of the fuel cell based on temperature readings of the vehicle, as shown in figures 1-3B. Wheeler also recites the coolant heat exchanger as able to be "a standard ambient air cooled radiator, such as common in the automotive industry" in column 7, lines 18-21.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 7, 8, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamada (5,482,790) and in further view of Wheeler (6,277,509).

Yamada discloses a method of operating a fuel cell system for a vehicle including a fuel cell 12, an electric energy accumulator (or batteries) 45a, 45b, and water collecting unit 25, wherein said batteries operate when a temperature of the fuel cell is below a preset value, and said fuel cell supplies power when said temp is above a preset value, as recited in column 10, lines 54-60 and shown in figure 7. Yamada does not disclose the heat exchanger 52 as being part of a radiator or air conditioning. Wheeler does disclose a fuel cell radiator as being able to be a vehicle radiator, as recited in column 7, lines 18-21. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have provided the fuel cell system of Yamada with the radiator cooling circuit of Wheeler in order to cool the fuel cell without the need for plural heat exchangers.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 8/12/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With respect to the applicant's arguments concerning the radiator or air conditioning as being the fuel cell cooling circuit, Wheeler does disclose in column 7, lines 18-21 that the heat exchanger can be a vehicle radiator, therefore the rejection stands.
7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 7, 8, and 12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. The applicant's amendment warranted the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jeffrey J. Restifo whose telephone number is (703) 305-0579. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (10:00-6:00), alternate Friday off.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Brian L. Johnson can be reached on (703) 308-0885. The fax phone numbers for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned are (703) 872-9326 for regular communications and (703) 872-9327 for After Final communications.

Any inquiry of a general nature or relating to the status of this application or proceeding should be directed to the receptionist whose telephone number is (703) 308-1113.
